DINERSTEIN ASKS TWENTY THOUSAND

Sues the East Liverpool Street Railway Company For That Amount Because He

HAD HIS ARM TAKEN OFF

Claims It Was Due to the Fact That the Car Had No Conductor.

FILED A VERY LONG PETITION

Lisbon, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The East Liverpool Street Railway company was sued this morning by Albert Dinerstein for $20,000 damages.

Dinerstein's injury was sustained on the 13th of last August. He claims that he got on a car in Wellsville for the purpose of going to East Liverpool and when he alighted at the intersection of Jethro and Division street the car gave a sudden jerk and threw him violently to the ground.

He claims that the car had no conductor in charge and was under the sole care of the motorman, who was consequently so overloaded with work that he could not give careful attention to the safety of his passengers. He furthermore says that the car was being run backwards, which fact made it more dangerous in alighting. The wheels of the car passed over his arm, crushing it near the shoulder and causing him such injuries that he was obliged to lie in bed for four weeks and pay a physician over $100.

Dinerstein is a painter and paper hanger by trade, and he says that he has been ever since the accident unable to follow his business.

The case was filed by W. F. Lones, of Wellsville, and M. J. McGarry, of East Liverpool.

COMING HOME.

W. J. Owen Will Return from Lanesville to Cast His Vote for William McKinley.

Chairman George H. Owen today received a letter from W. J. Owen, who is at work in Lanesville, stating that he would be home to vote. In the letter he states that J. B. Owens, proprietor of the Zanesville pottery, would vote for McKinley and so would a big lot of Democrats in Zanesville, and all the business men. He said he had a conversation with a colored man who stated that he had good times the last four years, but didn't know what he would get if W. J. Bryan was elected and he preferred to let well enough alone.

THE DECENNIAL BOARD ADJOURNS

After Almost Two Months of Hard
Work They Completed Their
Labors Yesterday.

REPORT MADE TO AUDITOR

Work Was Done In a Splendid
Manner and Everybody May
Be Satisfied.

WILL ASK FOR A REDUCTION

The decennial board of equalization have concluded their work, and as the law requires, the sum total they return is the same as the corrected figures of the appraiser. By the corrected figures we mean that errors existed such as any one man would make in appraisements of properties so diversified as we have in this city, ranging from farm lands to fractions of lots and large manufacturing plants to small dwellings that dot the hillsides and adorn the valleys along the river, and the board, as well as the citizens generally will, we believe, concede that the law that allows a board to add to, but not subtract from a general result, is a bad law and one of the first duties our law makes is to put on the statute books an enactment whereby three or more appraisers make the figures on which we are taxed for all matters of government and improvement.

Some members of the board say they think that few, if any of our citizens will be overburdened by taxation to the extent that was first thought, and that with a judicious council and school board the levy may be kept in such proportion that it will not be felt, or we say about to the extent feared by our people on the receipt of their appraisal notices. Of course this depends on conditions. By this we mean if the present and past prosperity of four years are continued and the business of the country and city obtains in the future as in the past, labor and business active, no extraordinary hardship will be worked, but with injudicious management of our city and national affairs a hardship will be worked to some extent at least.

We find some of the members of the board; we say some because we have not seen all, that say that we are higher in their belief than like cities in the state and that if their influence is worth anything they will use every effort that will conduce to the best interests of the citizens, and at the same time be equitable with all the residents of the county and state, and that after the election of a member of the state board of equalization they will append their names to any request thought best by our people, asking for a horizontal reduction of taxes on all.

Further a member of the board states that all the meetings of the same were as harmonious as could be expected by the most exacting person; that changes were made only as the laws contemplated and without fear or favor and to their best judgment, governed as they were under a hampering law.

The board held the first meeting on August 6, the day required by law and then adjourned until August 22, and have been in continuous session since that day.

Colonel W. C. Watson and Smith Fowler this morning took the report to the county auditor. The auditor will make a transcript of the report and will send it to the state board, which meets in Columbus in January. This board is composed of one member elected from each senatorial district. The state board compares cities and towns of like class and their reductions are horizontal. When the appraisal was made 10 years ago this city was given a 10 per cent reduction and this year an effort will be made to get at least a 15 per cent reduction.

In the days of true wisdom, common sense was held as a very desirable article, and the man who "would bite his nose off to spite his face" was of course considered a fool. You know that Mexico is a free silver country. You know that Bryan himself acknowledges that he is in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver. Read this:

"A fine illustration of the way in which the silver standard injures every country which is afflicted by it is shown in an advertisement of a firm of St. Louis brokers in the Globe-Democrat. These brokers advertise: 'For Sale—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent silver bonds at 42,' and 'Wanted—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent gold bonds at 99.'"

These lines follow each other in this order in the advertisement. There is a point in them which will appeal to all intelligent persons.

"That is to say, $50,000 of 5 per cent silver bonds of the United States of Mexico are offered for sale at 42, while 99 is offered by the same firm of brokers in St. Louis for $50,000 of 5 per cent Mexican gold bonds. The two classes of securities are of the same country, and they bear the same interest, but the gold bonds will bring more than twice as much as the silver bonds. There is no politics in this advertisement. It is a plain, cold business proposition. More than twice as much money is offered for the gold bonds of the same country, the same interest and the same face value as for the silver bonds, because that is the difference in their status in the markets of the world."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Some members of the board say they think that few, if any of our citizens will be overburdened by taxation to the extent that was first thought, and that with a judicious council and school board the levy may be kept in such proportion that it will not be felt, or we say about to the extent feared by our people on the receipt of their appraisement notices. Of course this depends on conditions. By this we mean if the present and past prosperity of four years are continued and the business of the country and city obtains in the future as in the past, labor and business active, no extraordinary hardship will be worked, but with injudicious management of our city and national affairs a hardship will be worked to some extent at least.

We find some of the members of the board; we say some because we have not seen all, that say that we are higher in their belief than like cities in the state and that if their influence is worth anything they will use every effort that will conduce to the best interests of the citizens, and at the same time be equitable with all the residents of the county and state, and that after the election of a member of the state board of equalization they will append their names to any request thought best by our people, asking for a horizontal reduction of taxes on all.

Further a member of the board states that all the meetings of the same were as harmonious as could be expected by the most exacting person; that changes were made only as the laws contemplated and without fear or favor and to their best judgment, governed as they were under a hampering law.

The board held the first meeting on August 6, the day required by law and then adjourned until August 22, and have been in continuous session since that day.

Colonel W. C. Watson and Smith Fowler this morning took the report to the county auditor. The auditor will make a transcript of the report and will send it to the state board, which meets in Columbus in January. This board is composed of one member elected from each senatorial district. The state board compares cities and towns of like class and their reductions are horizontal. When the appraisement was made 10 years ago this city was given a 10 per cent reduction and this year an effort will be made to get at least a 15 per cent reduction.

HAVE YOU GOOD SENSE?

Men of East Liverpool, Mechanics and Toilers, Read This Carefully.

In the days of true wisdom, common sense was held as a very desirable article, and the man who "would bite his nose off to spite his face" was of course considered a fool. You know that Mexico is a free silver country. You know that Bryan himself acknowledges that he is in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver. Read this:

"A fine illustration of the way in which the silver standard injures every country which is afflicted by it is shown in an advertisement of a firm of St. Louis brokers in the Globe-Democrat. These brokers advertise: 'For Sale—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent silver bonds at 42,' and 'Wanted—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent gold bonds at 99.' These lines follow each other in this order in the advertisement. There is a point in them which will appeal to all intelligent persons.

"That is to say, $50,000 of 5 per cent silver bonds of the United States of Mexico are offered for sale at 42, while 99 is offered by the same firm of brokers in St. Louis for $50,000 of 5 per cent Mexican gold bonds. The two classes of securities are of the same country, and they bear the same interest, but the gold bonds will bring more than twice as much as the silver bonds. There is no politics in this advertisement. It is a plain, cold business proposition. More than twice as much money is offered for the gold bonds of the same country, the same interest and the same face value as for the silver bonds, because that is the difference in their status in the markets of the world."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

COPY OF NATURALIZATION LAWS

Probate Judge Boone will be at the mayor's office, Wellsville, Saturday night from 6 o'clock until the time he finishes issuing naturalization papers for all who are entitled to them.

Persons from this city who wish to take out papers should remember when they go to Wellsville that they should have a person with them to vouch for them.

In order that all may know what it takes to become a citizen the following extract from the laws is given:

The conditions under and the manner in which an alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States are prescribed by sections 2, 165-74 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Declaration of Intentions.

The alien must declare upon oath before a circuit or district court of the United States or a district or supreme court of the territories, or a court of record of any of the states having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, two years prior to his admission, that is, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or state, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

Oath on Application for Admission.

He must at the time of his application to be admitted declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereign, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject," which proceedings must be recorded by the clerk of the court.

Conditions for Citizenship.

If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied that he has made a declaration to become a citizen two years before applying for final papers, and has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and within the state or territory where such court is at the time held one year at least; and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same," he will be admitted to citizenship.

Titles of Nobility.

If the applicant has borne any hereditary title or order of nobility he must make an express renunciation of the same at the time of his application.

Soldiers.

Any alien of the age of 21 years and upward who has been in the armies of the United States, and has been honorably discharged therefrom, may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided that he has resided in the United States at least one year previous to his application, and is of good moral character. (It is judicially decided that residence of one year in a particular state is not requisite.)

Minors.

Any alien under the age of 21 years who has resided in the United States three years next preceding his arriving at that age, and who has continued to reside therein to the time he may make application to be admitted a citizen thereof, may, after he arrives at the age of 21 years, and after he has resided five years within the United States, including the three years of his minority, be admitted a citizen; but he must make a declaration on oath and prove to the satisfaction of the court that for two years next preceding it has been his bona fide intention to become a citizen.

Children of Naturalized Citizens.

The children of persons who have been duly naturalized, being under the age of 21 years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof.

Citizens' Children Who are Born Abroad.

The children of persons who now are or have been citizens of the United States are, though born out of the United States, considered as citizens thereof.

JUDGE BOONE TO BE IN WELLSVILLE

All Persons Who Want to Be
Naturalized May See Him
In That City

ON NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

People From Here Should Be Sure
and Take Somebody With Them.

COPY OF NATURALIZATION LAWS

Probate Judge Boone will be at the mayor's office, Wellsville, Saturday night from 6 o'clock until the time he finishes issuing naturalization papers for all who are entitled to them.

Persons from this city who wish to take out papers should remember when they go to Wellsville that they should have a person with them to vouch for them.

In order that all may know what it takes to become a citizen the following extract from the laws is given:

The conditions under and the manner in which an alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States are prescribed by sections 2, 165-74 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Declaration of Intentions.

The alien must declare upon oath before a circuit or district court of the United States or a district or supreme court of the territories, or a court of record of any of the states having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, two years prior to his admission, that is, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or state, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

Oath on Application for Admission.

He must at the time of his application to be admitted declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereign, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject," which proceedings must be recorded by the clerk of the court.

Conditions for Citizenship.

If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied that he has made a declaration to become a citizen two years before applying for final papers, and has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and within the state or territory where such court is at the time held one year at least; and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same," he will be admitted to citizenship.

Titles of Nobility.

If the applicant has borne any hereditary title or order of nobility he must make an express renunciation of the same at the time of his application.

Soldiers.

Any alien of the age of 21 years and upward who has been in the armies of the United States, and has been honorably discharged therefrom, may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided that he has resided in the United States at least one year previous to his application, and is of good moral character. (It is judicially decided that residence of one year in a particular state is not requisite.) Minors.

Any alien under the age of 21 years who has resided in the United States three years next preceding his arriving at that age, and who has continued to reside therein to the time he may make application to be admitted a citizen thereof, may, after he arrives at the age of 21 years, and after he has resided five years within the United States, including the three years of his minority, be admitted a citizen; but he must make a declaration on oath and prove to the satisfaction of the court that for two years next preceding it has been his bona fide intention to become a citizen.

Children of Naturalized Citizens.

The children of persons who have been duly naturalized, being under the age of 21 years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof.

Citizens' Children Who are Born Abroad.

The children of persons who now are or have been citizens of the United States are, though born out of the United States, considered as citizens thereof.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1900.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

COLONEL WINSHIP.

On Monday night, November 5, take all of your friends and acquaintances with you and meander to the Republican wigwam and hear the Big Chief, Colonel Winship, of Cleveland. The colonel was here four years ago, and he made warm friends on every hand. He is an orator right in the front rank, and it is a matter of genuine delight to listen to him.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Four men threw rotten eggs at Bryan in Chicago, and they were immediately arrested, and should have been, as they deserve hot censure and punishment. Roosevelt was pelted with mud and dirt while in Chicago, and has been assailed in many places by Bryan toughs, and no one has been arrested or punished. Bryan Democracy represents disorder and lawlessness. Republicanism backs and sustains law and order.

THAT CALF STORY.

We have the "calf, the steer and the cow" in our front window. A Bryanite hates the picture and hates the man or men who display it. Every genuine and true Republican pronounces it a daisy from Daisyville. Here's the verdict of a prominent, honest and thoughtful Democrat, given to the manager of this paper, in the presence of good witnesses: "Cap, I can stand here and look in the faces of men who halt and look at that picture and read the printing beneath, and tell in a minute how they will vote, for McKinley or Bryan. If for McKinley they will laugh and grin; if for Bryan, they will scowl and mutter and swear. One fellow stood here the other day, read that, and then cursed a streak." Every Bryanite, combined with the fellow who poses as a Republican and who votes the Bryanite-Aguinaldo ticket, hates the calf picture with a bitter hatred, and bawls about it about as long and loudly as the poor fool calf will when supper time comes and it has nothing to appease its hunger. Ba!

REPUBLICAN ALL OVER.

Some of our Bryan Democracy object to the News Review from a political standpoint. They say that we publish a good, newsy, clean family paper, but that our Republicanism is too radical and pronounced. Gentlemen, we thank you for your favorable verdict. We glory in our Republicanism. We voted first for Abraham Lincoln for the berth of president of these United States. We have been voting for and doing battle for the Republican party ever since that time to the very best of our ability. Why? Simply because we honestly believe that the Republican party best represents sents the masses, the workers and toilers of the nation, and we believe in the greatest good to the greatest mass. We believe that all the industries of this great nation are best subserved under Republican rule. We believe, from the center of the heart out, that Bryan and his employers and followers would ruin this country if they were given control thereof; and, believing this, we are working against them to the limit. We believe that McKinley and Roosevelt represent the best interests of our great country. They were gallant and heroic soldiers, are true and tried statesmen, the friends and advocates of the workingmen of the land, and we love them for their great and sterling qualities, and will work for them with all our ability, without money and without price. Three cheers and a tiger for our standard bearers.

CALLED ON THE CARDINAL.

French Admiral Paid His Respects—Also Visited Mayor.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Richard, of the French navy, who arrived in this port the other day, with two French cruisers, La Cecille and La Souchet, has paid his official visit to Mayor Hayes, by whom he was warmly welcomed and who extended to him the freedom of the city.

Admiral Richard, much pleased with the cordial reception, thanked the mayor for his words of welcome. The visitors met a large number of city officials and later called upon and paid their respects to Cardinal Gibbons. The cardinal, attired in red robe and hat, greeted them warmly. Father Magnien, of St. Mary's seminary, was the only other priest at the archiepiscopal residence when the naval officers arrived. A general conversation was indulged in during the minutes' stay of the visitors. Captain Peter Leary, commanding the Fort McHenry, went aboard the Cecille and paid his compliments to the admiral.

SAW RICE MURDERED.

Jones Says Patrick Committed the Crime.

THE EX-VALET ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

He Declares Patrick Gave Him the Knife, With Which to Kill Himself—Had Previously Made the Confession—Imprisoned Attorney Makes Denial.

New York, Nov. 2.—The death of the wealthy William Marsh Rice at his Madison avenue apartments on Sept. 23; the attempt of his New York attorney, Albert T. Patrick, to cash checks for large amounts which purported to be signed by the millionaire; the refusal of one bank to cash the checks drawn on it, and the discovery by the bank officials that Mr. Rice was lying dead at the time the checks were presented; the subsequent claim by Patrick that Mr. Rice had made him, by will, the trustee of his estate, which amounts to anywhere between $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, the charge of forgery both as regards the checks and will placed against Patrick and Mr. Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones; the arrest of Patrick and Jones and their lodgment in jail, have been followed by an attempt of Jones to suicide, and a confession he has made.

Jones, in his cell in the Tombs, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a penknife given him, he says, by Attorney Patrick, also confined in the Tombs, and for the purpose of getting rid of one of the witnesses to Patrick's alleged crime. Jones was taken to Bellevue hospital. The physicians said he would recover.

His crime, according to the confession of Jones, parts of which the District Attorney's office gave out, was nothing less than the murder of the millionaire by Attorney Patrick and the purloining of valuable papers relating to the estate. The taking off of Mr. Rice, says Jones, was done by the internal administration of some poison, supposedly mercury, and the final application of a towel saturated with some anaesthetic, presumably chloroform. The portion of the confession which had to do with the last moments of the old man is the following, given out by the authorities as coming from Jones, the scene taking place in the apartments of the millionaire, and he lying sick in bed. Rice said: "I am very nervous, Mr. Patrick. I wish you wouldn't trouble me. Please go away."

Patrick replied: "I have some salts here, Mr. Rice, that will cure your nervousness."

He produced a bottle and uncorked it. The contents smelled to me like some very strong liniment.

Then Patrick said to me: "Get me a towel and a sponge." I got him both. Then Patrick said:

"Jones, you have to leave." I left. As I was leaving Patrick said: "I'll remain here until Mr. Rice gets to sleep." He closed the door behind me.

I stood in the hall for a few minutes and soon I heard Mr. Rice laugh. I thought this was queer, so I pushed open the door. I saw Mr. Rice lying on his back in bed.

The towel that I had given Patrick was wrapped around the sponge in some shape. This cone was lying directly over Mr. Rice's eyes and nose. Patrick was pressing it down with his right hand. Patrick did not see me, and, of course, Mr. Rice could not. After seeing what I had seen I went and lay on my bed.

Mr. Rice grew very sick. Patrick said to me:

"Go get a doctor."

I went for one. He pronounced Mr. Rice dead.

According to Jones, Rice had threatened to appeal to the authorities if Patrick did not deliver over to him, Patrick, on the night of the murder, came in with the papers. Then followed the scene described above.

Afterward occurred the purloining of valuable papers, the episode of the checks, etc.

In addition to the confession obtained from Jones much information was obtained from the valet in regard to the finances of the old millionaire and the various documents he signed. This will prove of great value to the Texas heirs in event of civil litigation.

Other arrests may be made as a result of Jones' confession, but no step in this direction will be made until the statements of the valet have been verified.

Attorney Patrick denies having furnished Jones the knife, and he also denies the statements in the confession.

Six special officers will be on duty tonight.

CALLED ON THE CARDINAL.

French Admiral Paid His Respects—Also Visited Mayor.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Richard, of the French navy, who arrived in this port the other day, with two French cruisers, La Cecille and La Souchet, has paid his official visit to Mayor Hayes, by whom he was warmly welcomed and who extended to him the freedom of the city.

Admiral Richard, much pleased with the cordial reception, thanked the mayor for his words of welcome. The visitors met a large number of city officials and later called upon and paid their respects to Cardinal Gibbons. The cardinal, attired in red robe and hat, greeted them warmly. Father Magnien, of St. Mary's seminary, was the only other priest at the archiepiscopal residence when the naval officers arrived. A general conversation was indulged in during the minutes' stay of the visitors. Captain Peter Leary, commandant of Fort McHenry, went aboard the ship and paid his compliments to the admiral.

SAW RICE MURDERED.

Jones Says Patrick Committed the Crime.

THE EX-VALET ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

He Declares Patrick Gave Him the Knife, With Which to Kill Himself—Had Previously Made the Confession—Imprisoned Attorney Makes Denial.

New York, Nov. 2.—The death of the wealthy William Marsh Rice at his Madison avenue apartments on Sept. 23; the attempt of his New York attorney, Albert T. Patrick, to cash checks for large amounts which purported to be signed by the millionaire; the refusal of one bank to cash the checks drawn on it, and the discovery by the bank officials that Mr. Rice was lying dead at the time the checks were presented; the subsequent claim by Patrick that Mr. Rice had made him, by will, the trustee of his estate, which amounts to anywhere between $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, the charge of forgery both as regards the checks and will placed against Patrick and Mr. Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones; the arrest of Patrick and Jones and their lodgment in jail, have been followed by an attempt of Jones to suicide, and a confession he has made.

Jones, in his cell in the Tombs, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a penknife given him, he says, by Attorney Patrick, also confined in the Tombs, and for the purpose of getting rid of one of the witnesses to Patrick's alleged crime. Jones was taken to Bellevue hospital. The physicians said he would recover.

His crime, according to the confession of Jones, parts of which the District Attorney's office gave out, was nothing less than the murder of the millionaire by Attorney Patrick and the purloining of valuable papers relating to the estate. The taking off of Mr. Rice, says Jones, was done by the internal administration of some poison, supposedly mercury, and the final application of a towel saturated with some anaesthetic, presumably chloroform. The portion of the confession which had to do with the last moments of the old man is the following, given out by the authorities as coming from Jones, the scene taking place in the apartments of the millionaire, and he lying sick in bed.

Rice said: "I am very nervous, Mr. Patrick. I wish you wouldn't trouble me. Please go away."

Patrick replied: "I have some salts here, Mr. Rice, that will cure your nervousness."

He produced a bottle and uncorked it. The contents smelled to me like some very strong liniment.

Then Patrick said to me: "Get me a towel and a sponge." I got him both. Then Patrick said:

"Jones, you have to leave." I left. As I was leaving Patrick said: "I'll remain here until Mr. Rice gets to sleep." He closed the door behind me.

I stood in the hall for a few minutes and soon I heard Mr. Rice laugh. I thought this was queer, so I pushed open the door. I saw Mr. Rice lying on his back in bed.

The towel that I had given Patrick was wrapped around the sponge in some shane. This cone was lying directly over Mr. Rice's eyes and nose. Patrick was pressing it down with his right hand. Patrick did not see me, and of course, Mr. Rice could not. After seeing what I had seen I went and lay on my bed.

Mr. Rice grew very sick. Patrick said to me:

"Go get a doctor."

I went for one. He pronounced Mr. Rice dead.

According to Jones, Rice had threatened to appeal to the authorities if Patrick did not deliver over to him. Patrick, on the night of the murder, came in with the papers. Then followed the scene described above.

Afterward occurred the purloining of valuable papers, the episode of the checks, etc.

In addition to the confession obtained from Jones much information was obtained from the valet in regard to the finances of the old millionaire and the various documents he signed. This will prove of great value to the Texas heirs in event of civil litigation.

Other arrests may be made as a result of Jones' confession, but no step in this direction will be made until the statements of the valet have been verified.

Attorney Patrick denies having furnished Jones the knife, and he also denies the statements in the confession.

Six special officers will be on duty tonight.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1900.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

COLONEL WINSHIP.

On Monday night, November 5, take all of your friends and acquaintances with you and meander to the Republican wigwam and hear the Big Chief, Colonel Winship, of Cleveland. The colonel was here four years ago, and he made warm friends on every hand. He is an orator right in the front rank, and it is a matter of genuine delight to listen to him.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Four men threw rotten eggs at Bryan in Chicago, and they were immediately arrested, and should have been, as they deserve hot censure and punishment. Roosevelt was pelted with mud and dirt while in Chicago, and has been assailed in many places by Bryan toughs, and no one has been arrested or punished. Bryan Democracy represents disorder and lawlessness. Republicanism backs and sustains law and order.

THAT CALF STORY.

We have the "calf, the steer and the cow" in our front window. A Bryanite hates the picture and hates the man or men who display it. Every genuine and true Republican pronounces it a daisy from Daisyville. Here's the verdict of a prominent, honest and thoughtful Democrat, given to the manager of this paper, in the presence of good witnesses: "Cap, I can stand here and look in the faces of men who halt and look at that picture and read the printing beneath, and tell in a minute how they will vote, for McKinley or Bryan. If for McKinley they will laugh and grin; if for Bryan, they will scowl and mutter and swear. One fellow stood here the other day, read that, and then cursed a streak." Every Bryanite, combined with the fellow who poses as a Republican and who votes the Bryanite-Aguinaldo ticket, hates the calf picture with a bitter hatred, and bawls about it about as long and loudly as the poor fool calf will when supper time comes and it has nothing to appease its hunger. Ba!

REPUBLICAN ALL OVER.

Some of our Bryan Democracy object to the News Review from a political standpoint. They say that we publish a good, newsy, clean family paper, but that our Republicanism is too radical and pronounced. Gentlemen, we thank you for your favorable verdict. We glory in our Republicanism. We voted first for Abraham Lincoln for the berth of president of these United States. We have been voting for and doing battle for the Republican party ever since that time to the very best of our ability. Why? Simply because we honestly believe that the Republican party best represents the masses, the workers and toilers of the nation, and we believe in the greatest good to the greatest mass. We believe that all the industries of this great nation are best subserved under Republican rule. We believe, from the center of the heart out, that Bryan and his employers and followers would ruin this country if they were given control thereof; and, believing this, we are working against them to the limit. We believe that McKinley and Roosevelt represent the best interests of our great country. They were gallant and heroic soldiers, are true and tried statesmen, the friends and advocates of the workingmen of the land, and we love them for their great and sterling qualities, and will work for them with all our ability, without money and without price. Three cheers and a tiger for our standard bearers.

A Dangerous Hole.

There is a hole in the platform of the East End station which should have been fixed several months ago, and with that end in view several of the prominent business men of this section have concluded to start a subscription paper to raise enough to buy a plank. One of their number has been selected to make the presentation speech to a representative of the railroad company just as soon as he is selected by them. It is thought in this way the damage may be repaired very soon. It has but recently come to the knowledge of the residents generally that the railroad company lacked the funds with which to buy a plank, for, had they been aware of this they would have started the movement sooner.

Eggs Thrown at Bryan—Miscreant Nearly Mobbed—Hanna Interrupted. Police Had to Interfere.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Four eggs were thrown at William J. Bryan just as he left the Central Turner hall, Milwaukee avenue, where he had concluded his address. The eggs were thrown by three or four young men, one of whom, John R. Myers, a sign painter, was placed under arrest. The other men escaped. The police had a hard time keeping the crowd from mobbing Myers.

Mark Hanna bowed to a storm of hisses, catcalls and cheers for William Jennings Bryan, in the big circus tent at Halstead and Thirtieth streets, giving up the attempt to get a hearing, after trying to talk and scoring the disturbers, until the police had restored order. A Dangerous Hole.

There is a hole in the platform of the East End station which should have been fixed several months ago, and with that end in view several of the prominent business men of this section have concluded to start a subscription paper to raise enough to buy a plank. One of their number has been selected to make the presentation speech to a representative of the railroad company just as soon as he is selected by them. It is thought in this way the damage may be repaired very soon. It has but recently come to the knowledge of the residents generally that the railroad company lacked the funds with which to buy a plank, for, had they been aware of this they would have started the movement sooner.

A NEW LOT OF IRON AND BRASS BEDS.

ASK LEWIS BROS. ABOUT IT.

BILLY BRYAN'S SPEECH.

The following in regard to the position of William Jennings Bryan on free silver will be much more interesting when it is known that of the existing bonded debt of the United States there is at this time, subject to Bryan's declarations, as to the payment in silver, all the outstanding debt issued under the act of July 14, 1870, amounting at this date to $666,248,600, enough to upset everything. The gold standard act of March 14, 1900, effects only the bonds issued since that date, now $335,250,600.

People who have been trying to get Mr. Bryan to state whether he would, if elected president, pay the obligations of the government in silver, need not have troubled him with that question.

Extract from a speech by Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives, February 14, 1895, on resolution authorizing the issue of $65,116,275 in gold bearing 3 per cent bonds.

"We insist that outstanding bonds are payable in gold or silver, and that the United States has the right to choose the coin. The men who contracted for the coin bonds understood this and insisted upon a higher rate of interest on the ground that they might be paid in silver. * * By what authority does the president declare in his message, 'Of course there can never be a doubt in any quarter as to the redemption of the bonds of the government which are made payable in coin?' Is he not aware of the fact that the debtor always has the choice of the coin where only coin is mentioned? Is he not aware of the adoption of the Matthews resolution in 1878? That resolution expressly declared the right of the government to pay its bonds in either gold or silver. That policy has never been changed by law.

"It becomes important to know whether the government has legal right to protect itself from gold grabbing by redeeming greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, when silver is more convenient. On the 21st of January, 1895, Mr. Carlisle made a statement before the house committee on appropriations, 'If the policy had been adopted of reserving to the government, at the beginning of redemption, the option of redeeming in gold or silver all its paper presented, I believe it would have worked beneficially.'

"This is sufficient proof that the secretary of the treasury has the legal right to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, but is restrained by the fear that a different precedent having been established an exercise of the legal right at this time would be very disastrous. Senator Sherman, in March, 1878, in testimony given before a senate committee, also recognized the right of the government to redeeming greenbacks with silver. * * No law has ever been passed surrendering the government's right to redeem in silver. * * Now, notwithstanding the fact that the government has a legal right to redeem in silver and thus protect the people from the gold-hoarders and gold exporters, the president continues to pay in gold. * *

It is said that the president will issue bonds anyhow and that we ought therefore to authorize a bond drawing a lower rate of interest. I reply that until we can restrain the president from further increasing our bonded indebtedness and compel him to protect the government by redeeming in silver when that is more convenient, we can better afford to allow him to bear the responsibility alone than, by approving of his course, pledge the government to a continuation of his policy. * * So long as the note holder has the option, bonds may be issued over and over again without avail. Gold will be withdrawn, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of buying bonds, and an issue of bonds compelled again whenever bond buyers have a surplus of money for investment. * * The only restoration is the restoration of the bi-metallic principle and the exercise of the option to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver when silver is more convenient, or when such a course is necessary to prevent a run upon the treasury. * * We who believe that greenbacks and treasury notes are redeemable in either gold or silver, at the option of the government—we, I say, can object to gold bonds as a violent change in our monetary policy."

(From a speech of Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives December 22, 1894: "Mr. Chairman: The members of this congress might just as well meet this question. * * The law says, 'upon demand of the holder of any of the treasury notes herein provided for, the secretary of the treasury shall, under such regulations as he may prescribe, redeem such notes in gold and silver coin at his discretion.' But there is a clause reading as follows:

"It being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals at a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio or such ratio as may be provided by law." Now the present secretary and the one preceding him have customed that to mean that the option really applies to the note holder and the same principle has been applied to the greenbacks. Mr. Chairman, I find the English language hardly adequate to express my feelings on that subject. What does that construction mean? Why, there is not a lawyer who would apply such a construction in anything except finance. You construe laws so that they will stand, and not so that they will fall; and yet what construction is this: The option is with the secretary, but it is the policy of the government not to allow him to use it. If you construe the last clause so as to take away the option from the secretary, from the government, then you construe a part of the law so as to contradict the other part and no law is to be construed that way, for there is no other reasonable construction. Either the government has the option and can exercise it to pay in silver when it wants to, or we must make all paper redeemable in gold only and abandon the bimetallic standard. I am in favor of the former. We find that along in 1878 or 1879, I think it was, a gentleman afterward on the supreme bench, Mr. Matthews, of Ohio, introduced a resolution declaring it the sense of congress that the government had the right to redeem its coin obligations in either gold or silver. The resolution passed. If we had the right then we have it now. And if we have it now why not exercise it, Mr. Chairman, and not turn over our finances to the control of those who desire to defeat the purpose of the government."

A gentleman talking with Mr. Bryan said:

"I met one of your friends and supporters the other day and in talking over the financial situation with him he freely admitted there would be a panic if you were elected, and that gold would go to a premium. When I said to him, 'what would you do suppose you owed some bills in Europe, with gold at a premium?' 'What would I do?' he said, 'why, I would tender them silver, and if they would not accept it I would tell them to go to hell.' I, of course, do not claim that all your followers are as crazy as this man is, but I have met a great many who entertain equally wild and absurd ideas on the financial question."

BILLY BRYAN'S SPEECH.

The following in regard to the position of William Jennings Bryan on free silver will be much more interesting when it is known that of the existing bonded debt of the United States there is at this time, subject to Bryan's declarations, as to the payment in silver, all the outstanding debt issued under the act of July 14, 1870, amounting at this date to $666,248,600, enough to upset everything. The gold standard act of March 14, 1900, effects only the bonds issued since that date, now $335,250,600.

People who have been trying to get Mr. Bryan to state whether he would, if elected president, pay the obligations of the government in silver, need not have troubled him with that question.

Extract from a speech by Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives, February 14, 1895, on resolution authorizing the issue of $65,116,275 in gold bearing 3 per cent bonds.

"We insist that outstanding bonds are payable in gold or silver, and that the United States has the right to choose the coin. The men who contracted for the coin bonds understood this and insisted upon a higher rate of interest on the ground that they might be paid in silver. * * By what authority does the president declare in his message, 'Of course there can never be a doubt in any quarter as to the redemption of the bonds of the government which are made payable in coin?' Is he not aware of the fact that the debtor always has the choice of the coin where only coin is mentioned? Is he not aware of the adoption of the Matthews resolution in 1878? That resolution expressly declared the right of the government to pay its bonds in either gold or silver. That policy has never been changed by law.

"It becomes important to know whether the government has legal right to protect itself from gold grabbing by redeeming greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, when silver is more convenient. On the 21st of January, 1895, Mr. Carlisle made a statement before the house committee on appropriations, 'If the policy had been adopted of reserving to the government, at the beginning of resumption, the option of redeeming in gold or silver all its paper presented, I believe it would have worked beneficially.'

"This is sufficient proof that the secretary of the treasury has the legal right to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, but is restricted by the fear that a different precedent having been established an exercise of the legal right at this time would be very disastrous. Senator Sherman, in March, 1878, in testimony given before a senate committee, also recognized the right of the government to redeeming greenbacks with silver. * * No law has ever been passed surrendering the government's right to redeem in silver. * * Now, notwithstanding the fact that the government has a legal right to redeem in silver and thus protect the people from the gold hoarders and gold exporters, the president continues to pay in gold. * *

It is said that the president will issue bonds anyhow and that we ought therefore to authorize a bond drawing a lower rate of interest. I reply that until we can restrain the president from further increasing our bonded indebtedness and compel him to protect the government by redeeming in silver when that is more convenient, we can better afford to allow him to bear the responsibility alone than, by approving of his course, pledge the government to a continuation of his policy. * * So long as the note holder has the option, bonds may be issued over and over again without avail. Gold will be withdrawn, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of buying bonds, and an issue of bonds compelled again whenever bond buyers have a surplus of money for investment. * * The only restoration is the restoration of the bi-metallic principle and the exercise of the option to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver when silver is more convenient, or when such a course is necessary to prevent a run upon the treasury. * * We who believe that greenbacks and treasury notes are redeemable in either gold or silver, at the option of the government—we, I say, can object to gold bonds as a violent change in our monetary policy."

(From a speech of Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives December 22, 1894: "Mr. Chairman: The members of this congress might just as well meet this question. * * The law says, 'upon demand of the holder of any of the treasury notes herein provided for, the secretary of the treasury shall, under such regulations as he may prescribe, redeem such notes in gold and silver coin at his discretion.' But there is a clause reading as follows:

"It being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals at a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio or such ratio as may be provided by law." Now the present secretary and the one preceding him have customary that to mean that the option really applies to the note holder and the same principle has been applied to the greenbacks. Mr. Chairman, I find the English language hardly adequate to express my feelings on that subject. What does that construction mean? Why, there is not a lawyer who would apply such a construction in anything except finance. You construe laws so that they will stand, and not so that they will fall; and yet what construction is this: The option is with the secretary, but it is the policy of the government not to allow him to use it. If you construe the last clause so as to take away the option from the secretary, from the government, then you construe a part of the law so as to contradict the other part and no law is to be construed that way, for there is no other reasonable construction. Either the government has the option and can exercise it to pay in silver when it wants to, or we must make all paper redeemable in gold only and abandon the bimetallic standard. I am in favor of the former. We find that along in 1878 or 1879, I think it was, a gentleman afterward on the supreme bench, Mr. Matthews, of Ohio, introduced a resolution declaring it the sense of congress that the government had the right to redeem its coin obligations in either gold or silver. The resolution passed. If we had the right then we have it now. And if we have it now why not exercise it, Mr. Chairman, and not turn over our finances to the control of those who desire to defeat the purpose of the government."

A gentleman talking with Mr. Bryan said:

"I met one of your friends and supporters the other day and in talking over the financial situation with him he freely admitted there would be a panic if you were elected, and that gold would go to a premium. When I said to him, 'what would you do suppose you owed some bills in Europe, with gold at a premium?' 'What would I do?' he said, 'why, I would tender them silver, and if they would not accept it I would tell them to go to hell.' I, of course, do not claim that all your followers are as crazy as this man is, but I have met a great many who entertain equally wild and absurd ideas on the financial question."

DINERSTEIN ASKS TWENTY THOUSAND

Sues the East Liverpool Street Railway Company For That Amount Because He

HAD HIS ARM TAKEN OFF

Claims It Was Due to the Fact That the Car Had No Conductor.

FILED A VERY LONG PETITION

Lisbon, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The East Liverpool Street Railway company was sued this morning by Albert
Dinerstein for $20,000 damages.

Dinerstein's injury was sustained on the 13th of last August. He claims that he got on a car in Wellsville for the purpose of going to East Liverpool and when he alighted at the intersection of Jethro and Division street the car gave a sudden jerk and threw him violently to the ground.

He claims that the car had no conductor in charge and was under the sole care of the motorman, who was consequently so overloaded with work that he could not give careful attention to the safety of his passengers.
He furthermore says that the car was being run backwards, which fact made it more dangerous in alighting.
The wheels of the car passed over his arm, crushing it near the shoulder and causing him such injuries that he was obliged to lie in bed for four weeks and pay a physician over $100.

Dinerstein is a painter and paper hanger by trade, and he says that he has been ever since the accident unable to follow his business.

The case was filed by W. F. Lones, of Wellsville, and M. J. McGarry, of East Liverpool.

COMING HOME.

W. J. Owen Will Return from Lanes-ville to Cast His Vote for William McKinley.

Chairman George H. Owen today received a letter from W. J. Owen, who is at work in Lanesville, stating that he would be home to vote. In the letter he states that J. B. Owens, proprietor of the Zanesville pottery, would vote for McKinley and so would a big lot of Democrats in Zanesville, and all the business men.
He said he had a conversation with a colored man who stated that he had good times the last four years, but didn't know what he would get if
W. J. Bryan was elected and he preferred to let well enough alone.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Mrs. Geo. P. Ikirt was in Pittsburg today.

—W. A. Weaver was in Salineville

THE DECENNIAL BOARD ADJOURNS

After Almost Two Months of Hard
Work They Completed Their
Labors Yesterday.

REPORT MADE TO AUDITOR

Work Was Done In a Splendid
Manner and Everybody May
Be Satisfied.

WILL ASK FOR A REDUCTION

The decennial board of equalization have concluded their work, and as the law requires, the sum total they return is the same as the corrected figures of the appraiser. By the corrected figures we mean that errors existed such as any one man would make in appraisements of properties so diversified as we have in this city, ranging from farm lands to fractions of lots and large manufacturing plants to small dwellings that dot the hillsides and adorn the valleys along the river, and the board, as well as the citizens generally will, we believe, concede that the law that allows a board to add to, but not subtract from a general result, is a bad law and one of the first duties our law makes is to put on the statute books an enactment whereby three or more appraisers make the figures on which we are taxed for all matters of government and improvement.

Some members of the board say they think that few, if any of our citizens will be overburdened by taxation to the extent that was first thought, and that with a judicious council and school board the levy may be kept in such proportion that it will not be felt, or we say about to the extent feared by our people on the receipt of their appraisal notices. Of course this depends on conditions. By this we mean if the present and past prosperity of four years are continued and the business of the country and city obtains in the future as in the past, labor and business active, no extraordinary hardship will be worked, but with injudicious management of our city and national affairs a hardship will be worked to some extent at least.

We find some of the members of the board; we say some because we have not seen all, that say that we are higher in their belief than like cities in the state and that if their influence is worth anything they will use every effort that will conduce to the best interests of the citizens, and at the same time be equitable with all the residents of the county and state, and that after the election of a member of the state board of equalization they will append their names to any request thought best by our people, asking for a horizontal reduction of taxes on all.

tion of taxes on all.

Further a member of the board states that all the meetings of the same were as harmonious as could be expected by the most exacting person; that changes were made only as the laws contemplated and without fear or favor and to their best judgment, governed as they were under a hampering law.

The board held the first meeting on August 6, the day required by law and then adjourned until August 22, and have been in continuous session since that day.

Colonel W. C. Watson and Smith Fowler this morning took the report to the county auditor. The auditor will make a transcript of the report and will send it to the state board, which meets in Columbus in January. This board is composed of one member elected from each senatorial district. The state board compares cities and towns of like class and their reductions are horizontal. When the appraisal was made 10 years ago this city was given a 10 per cent reduction and this year an effort will be made to get at least a 15 per cent reduction.

HAVE YOU GOOD SENSE?

Men of East Liverpool, Mechanics and Toilers, Read This Carefully.

In the days of true wisdom, common sense was held as a very desirable article, and the man who "would bite his nose off to spite his face" was of course considered a fool. You know that Mexico is a free silver country. You know that Bryan himself acknowledges that he is in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver. Read this:

"A fine illustration of the way in which the silver standard injures every country which is afflicted by it is shown in an advertisement of a firm of St. Louis brokers in the Globe-Democrat. These brokers advertise: 'For Sale—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent silver bonds at 42,' and 'Wanted—$50,000 United States of Mexico 5 per cent gold bonds at 99.'"

These lines follow each other in this order in the advertisement. There is a point in them which will appeal to all intelligent persons.

"That is to say, $50,000 of 5 per cent silver bonds of the United States of Mexico are offered for sale at 42, while 99 is offered by the same firm of brokers in St. Louis for $50,000 of 5 per cent Mexican gold bonds. The two classes of securities are of the same country, and they bear the same interest, but the gold bonds will bring more than twice as much as the silver bonds. There is no politics in this advertisement. It is a plain, cold business proposition. More than twice as much money is offered for the gold bonds of the same country, the same interest and the same face value as for the silver bonds, because that is the difference in their status in the markets of the world."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

JUDGE BOONE TO BE IN WELLSVILLE

All Persons Who Want to Be
Naturalized May See Him
In That City

ON NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

People From Here Should Be Sure
and Take Somebody With Them.

COPY OF NATURALIZATION LAWS

Probate Judge Boone will be at the mayor's office, Wellsville, Saturday night from 6 o'clock until the time he finishes issuing naturalization papers for all who are entitled to them.

Persons from this city who wish to take out papers should remember when they go to Wellsville that they should have a person with them to vouch for them.

In order that all may know what it takes to become a citizen the following extract from the laws is given:

The conditions under and the manner in which an alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States are prescribed by sections 2, 165-74 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Declaration of Intentions.

The alien must declare upon oath before a circuit or district court of the United States or a district or supreme court of the territories, or a court of record of any of the states having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, two years prior to his admission, that is, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or state, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

Oath on Application for Admission.

He must at the time of his application to be admitted declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereign, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject," which proceedings must be recorded by the clerk of the court.

Conditions for Citizenship.

If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied that he has made a declaration to become a citizen two years before applying for final papers, and has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and within the state or territory where such court is at the time held one year at least; and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same," he will be admitted to citizenship.

Titles of Nobility.

If the applicant has borne any hereditary title or order of nobility he must make an express renunciation of the same at the time of his application.

Soldiers.

Any alien of the age of 21 years and upward who has been in the armies of the United States, and has been honorably discharged therefrom, may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided that he has resided in the United States at least one year previous to his application, and is of good moral character. (It is judicially decided that residence of one year in a particular state is not requisite.) Minors.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1906.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

COLONEL WINSHIP.

On Monday night, November 5, take all of your friends and acquaintances with you and meander to the Republican wigwam and hear the Big Chief, Colonel Winship, of Cleveland. The colonel was here four years ago, and he made warm friends on every hand. He is an orator right in the front rank, and it is a matter of genuine delight to listen to him.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Four men threw rotten eggs at Bryan in Chicago, and they were immediately arrested, and should have been, as they deserve hot censure and punishment. Roosevelt was pelted with mud and dirt while in Chicago, and has been assailed in many places by Bryan toughs, and no one has been arrested or punished. Bryan Democracy represents disorder and lawlessness. Republicanism backs and sustains law and order.

THAT CALF STORY.

We have the "calf, the steer and the cow" in our front window. A Bryanite hates the picture and hates the man or men who display it. Every genuine and true Republican pronounces it a daisy from Daisyville. Here's the verdict of a prominent, honest and thoughtful Democrat, given to the manager of this paper, in the presence of good witnesses: "Cap, I can stand here and look in the faces of men who halt and look at that picture and read the printing beneath, and tell in a minute how they will vote, for McKinley or Bryan. If for McKinley they will laugh and grin; if for Bryan, they will scowl and mutter and swear. One fellow stood here the other day, read that, and then cursed a streak." Every Bryanite, combined with the fellow who poses as a Republican and who votes the Bryanite-Aguinaldo ticket, hates the calf picture with a bitter hatred, and bawls about it about as long and loudly as the poor fool calf will when supper time comes and it has nothing to appease its hunger. Ba!

REPUBLICAN ALL OVER.

Some of our Bryan Democracy object to the News Review from a political standpoint. They say that we publish a good, newsy, clean family paper, but that our Republicanism is too radical and pronounced. Gentlemen, we thank you for your favorable verdict. We glory in our Republicanism. We voted first for Abraham Lincoln for the berth of president of these United States. We have been voting for and doing battle for the Republican party ever since that time to the very best of our ability. Why? Simply because we honestly believe that the Republican party best represents sents the masses, the workers and toilers of the nation, and we believe in the greatest good to the greatest mass. We believe that all the industries of this great nation are best subserved under Republican rule. We believe, from the center of the heart out, that Bryan and his employers and followers would ruin this country if they were given control thereof; and, believing this, we are working against them to the limit. We believe that McKinley and Roosevelt represent the best interests of our great country. They were gallant and heroic soldiers, are true and tried statesmen, the friends and advocates of the workingmen of the land, and we love them for their great and sterling qualities, and will work for them with all our ability, without money and without price. Three cheers and a tiger for our standard bearers.

CALLED ON THE CARDINAL.

French Admiral Paid His Respects—Also Visited Mayor.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Richard, of the French navy, who arrived in this port the other day, with two French cruisers, La Cecille and La Souchet, has paid his official visit to Mayor Hayes, by whom he was warmly welcomed and who extended to him the freedom of the city.

Admiral Richard, much pleased with the cordial reception, thanked the mayor for his words of welcome. The visitors met a large number of city officials and later called upon and paid their respects to Cardinal Gibbons. The cardinal, attired in red robe and hat, greeted them warmly. Father Magnien, of St. Mary's seminary, was the only other priest at the archiepiscopal residence when the naval officers arrived. A general conversation was indulged in during the minutes' stay of the visitors. Captain Peter Leary, commandant of Fort McHenry, went aboard the Cecille and paid his compliments to the admiral.

SAW RICE MURDERED.

Jones Says Patrick Committed the Crime.

THE EX-VALET ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

He Declares Patrick Gave Him the Knife, With Which to Kill Himself—Had Previously Made the Confession—Imprisoned Attorney Makes Denial.

New York, Nov. 2.—The death of the wealthy William Marsh Rice at his Madison avenue apartments on Sept. 23; the attempt of his New York attorney, Albert T. Patrick, to cash checks for large amounts which purported to be signed by the millionaire; the refusal of one bank to cash the checks drawn on it, and the discovery by the bank officials that Mr. Rice was lying dead at the time the checks were presented; the subsequent claim by Patrick that Mr. Rice had made him, by will, the trustee of his estate, which amounts to anywhere between $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, the charge of forgery both as regards the checks and will placed against Patrick and Mr. Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones; the arrest of Patrick and Jones and their lodgment in jail, have been followed by an attempt of Jones to suicide, and a confession he has made.

Jones, in his cell in the Tombs, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a penknife given him, he says, by Attorney Patrick, also confined in the Tombs, and for the purpose of getting rid of one of the witnesses to Patrick's alleged crime. Jones was taken to Bellevue hospital. The physicians said he would recover.

His crime, according to the confession of Jones, parts of which the District Attorney's office gave out, was nothing less than the murder of the millionaire by Attorney Patrick and the purloining of valuable papers relating to the estate. The taking off of Mr. Rice, says Jones, was done by the internal administration of some poison, supposedly mercury, and the final application of a towel saturated with some anaesthetic, presumably chloroform. The portion of the confession which had to do with the last moments of the old man is the following, given out by the authorities as coming from Jones, the scene taking place in the apartments of the millionaire, and he lying sick in bed.

Rice said: "I am very nervous, Mr. Patrick. I wish you wouldn't trouble me. Please go away."

Patrick replied: "I have some salts here, Mr. Rice, that will cure your nervousness."

He produced a bottle and uncorked it. The contents smelled to me like some very strong liniment.

Then Patrick said to me: "Get me a towel and a sponge." I got him both. Then Patrick said:

"Jones, you have to leave." I left. As I was leaving Patrick said: "I'll remain here until Mr. Rice gets to sleep." He closed the door behind me.

I stood in the hall for a few minutes and soon I heard Mr. Rice laugh. I thought this was queer, so I pushed open the door. I saw Mr. Rice lying on his back in bed.

The towel that I had given Patrick was wrapped around the sponge in some shape. This cone was lying directly over Mr. Rice's eyes and nose. Patrick was pressing it down with his right hand. Patrick did not see me, and of course Mr. Rice could not. After seeing what I had seen I went and lay on my bed.

Mr. Rice grew very sick. Patrick said to me:

"Go get a doctor."

I went for one. He pronounced Mr. Rice dead.

According to Jones, Rice had threatened to appeal to the authorities if Patrick did not deliver over to him, Patrick, on the night of the murder, came in with the papers. Then followed the scene described above.

Afterward occurred the purloining of valuable papers, the episode of the checks, etc.

In addition to the confession obtained from Jones much information was obtained from the valet in regard to the finances of the old millionaire and the various documents he signed. This will prove of great value to the Texas heirs in event of civil litigation.

Other arrests may be made as a result of Jones' confession, but no step in this direction will be made until the statements of the valet have been verified.

Attorney Patrick denies having furnished Jones the knife, and he also denies the statements in the confession.

Six special officers will be on duty tonight.

A Dangerous Hole.

There is a hole in the platform of the East End station which should have been fixed several months ago, and with that end in view several of the prominent business men of this section have concluded to start a subscription paper to raise enough to buy a plank. One of their number has been selected to make the presentation speech to a representative of the railroad company just as soon as he is selected by them. It is thought in this way the damage may be repaired very soon. It has but recently come to the knowledge of the residents generally that the railroad company lacked the funds with which to buy a plank, for, had they been aware of this they would have started the movement sooner.

Several weeks ago a farmer named Gilchrist, residing in the vicinity of Wellsville, decided to chance off a team of draught horses, wagon and harness. About 25 of the employees of the various potteries in East End formed a club and took a chance each at $1.

The drawing came off last evening in Wellsville and W. K. Pifer, oddman at the National, holds the lucky number, which was 218. A representative of the club was sent to Wellsville this morning for the team. It will be brought here and sold. The outfit is valued at $275, and several offers have been made the club for their purchase.

HOT POLITICS IN CHICAGO.

Eggs Thrown at Bryan—Miscreant Nearly Mobbed—Hanna Interrupted. Police Had to Interfere.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Four eggs were thrown at William J. Bryan just as he left the Central Turner hall, Milwaukee avenue, where he had concluded his address. The eggs were thrown by three or four young men, one of whom, John R. Myers, a sign painter, was placed under arrest. The other men escaped. The police had a hard time keeping the crowd from mobbing Myers.

Mark Hanna bowed to a storm of hisses, catcalls and cheers for William Jennings Bryan, in the big circus tent at Halstead and Thirtieth streets, giving up the attempt to get a hearing, after trying to talk and scoring the disturbers, until the police had restored order. For 45 minutes the mob had its will, and then 70 policemen took a hand and cleared the aisles.

BILLY BRYAN'S SPEECH.

The following in regard to the position of William Jennings Bryan on free silver will be much more interesting when it is known that of the existing bonded debt of the United States there is at this time, subject to Bryan's declarations, as to the payment in silver, all the outstanding debt issued under the act of July 14, 1870, amounting at this date to $666,248,600, enough to upset everything. The gold standard act of March 14, 1900, effects only the bonds issued since that date, now $335,250,600.

People who have been trying to get Mr. Bryan to state whether he would, if elected president, pay the obligations of the government in silver, need not have troubled him with that question.

Extract from a speech by Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives, February 14, 1895, on resolution authorizing the issue of $65,116,275 in gold bearing 3 per cent bonds.

"We insist that outstanding bonds are payable in gold or silver, and that the United States has the right to choose the coin. The men who contracted for the coin bonds understood this and insisted upon a higher rate of interest on the ground that they might be paid in silver. * * By what authority does the president declare in his message, 'Of course there can never be a doubt in any quarter as to the redemption of the bonds of the government which are made payable in coin?' Is he not aware of the fact that the debtor always has the choice of the coin where only coin is mentioned? Is he not aware of the adoption of the Matthews resolution in 1878? That resolution expressly declared the right of the government to pay its bonds in either gold or silver. That policy has never been changed by law.

"It becomes important to know whether the government has legal right to protect itself from gold grabbing by redeeming greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, when silver is more convenient. On the 21st of January, 1895, Mr. Carlisle made a statement before the house committee on appropriations. If the policy had been adopted of reserving to the government, at the beginning of resumption, the option of redeeming in gold or silver all its paper presented, I believe it would have worked beneficially."

"This is sufficient proof that the secretary of the treasury has the legal right to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver, but is restrained by the fear that a different precedent having been established an exercise of the legal right at this time would be very disastrous. Senator Sherman, in March, 1878, in testimony given before a senate committee, also recognized the right of the government to redeeming greenbacks with silver. * * No law has ever been passed surrendering the government's right to redeem in silver. * * Now, notwithstanding the fact that the government has a legal right to redeem in silver and thus protect the people from the gold-boards and gold exporters, the president continues to pay in gold. * *

It is said that the president will issue bonds anyhow and that we ought therefore to authorize a bond drawing a lower rate of interest. I reply that until we can restrain the president from further increasing our bonded indebtedness and compel him to protect the government by redeeming in silver when that is more convenient, we can better afford to allow him to bear the responsibility alone than, by approving of his course, pledge the government to a continuation of his policy. * * So long as the note holder has the option, bonds may be issued over and over again without avail. Gold will be withdrawn, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of buying bonds, and an issue of bonds compelled again whenever bond buyers have a surplus of money for investment. * * The only restoration is the restoration of the bi-metallic principle and the exercise of the option to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver when silver is more convenient, or when such a course is necessary to prevent a run upon the treasury. * * We who believe that greenbacks and treasury notes are redeemable in either gold or silver, at the option of the government—we, I say, can object to gold bonds as a violent change in our monetary policy."

(From a speech of Hon. W. J. Bryan in the house of representatives December 22, 1894: "Mr. Chairman: The members of this congress might just as well meet this question. * * The law says, 'upon demand of the holder of any of the treasury notes herein provided for, the secretary of the treasury shall, under such regulations as he may prescribe, redeem such notes in gold and silver coin at his discretion.' But there is a clause reading as follows:

"It being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals at a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio or such ratio as may be provided by law." Now the present secretary and the one preceding him have customed that to mean that the option really applies to the note holder and the same principle has been applied to the greenbacks. Mr. Chairman, I find the English language hardly adequate to express my feelings on that subject. What does that construction mean? Why, there is not a lawyer who would apply such a construction in anything except finance. You construe laws so that they will stand, and not so that they will fall; and yet what construction is this: The option is with the secretary, but it is the policy of the government not to allow him to use it. If you construe the last clause so as to take away the option from the secretary, from the government, then you construe a part of the law so as to contradict the other part and no law is to be construed that way, for there is no other reasonable construction. Either the government has the option and can exercise it to pay in silver when it wants to, or we must make all paper redeemable in gold only and abandon the bi-metallic standard. I am in favor of the former. We find that along in 1878 or 1879, I think it was, a gentleman afterward on the supreme bench, Mr. Matthews, of Ohio, introduced a resolution declaring it the sense of congress that the government had the right to redeem its coin obligations in either gold or silver. The resolution passed. If we had the right then we have it now. And if we have it now why not exercise it, Mr. Chairman, and not turn over our finances to the control of those who desire to defeat the purpose of the government."

A gentleman talking with Mr. Bryan said:

"I met one of your friends and supporters the other day and in talking over the financial situation with him he freely admitted there would be a panic if you were elected, and that gold would go to a premium. When I said to him, 'what would you do suppose you owed some bills in Europe, with gold at a premium?' 'What would I do?' he said, 'why, I would tender them silver, and if they would not accept it I would tell them to go to hell.' I, of course, do not claim that all your followers are as crazy as this man is, but I have met a great many who entertain equally wild and absurd ideas on the financial question."
